This week

This week your child has;

In Phonics – learnt the tricky word 'she' and new sounds 'qu' and 'ng' – e.g. queen and ring

In Mathematics we have learnt lots of new vocabulary relating to measuring with length. We have been working out which objects are taller or shorter, comparing lengths, measuring using pasta (or something similar).

In Understanding the World – we have learnt about Chinese New Year, and the traditions that represent this occasion. Did you work out the Chinese zodiac animal you were born in and if you any of your family have the same?

Week beginning 22nd February 2021

Week 7 of home schooling;

Phonics – A new tricky word on Monday and 2 new sounds next week. As we will now be learning more digraphs, we will teach a digraph one day and the next day apply it, and then repeat with the second new one. You will be seeing Miss Edmead teach a couple of phonic lesson, she is looking forward to making more learning videos for you.

Mathematics – Numbers 9 and 10.

We are going to learn about two very special animals that Tigers and Leopards have, watch the video on Monday 22nd to find out more!
